RERSERVED - Software Additional Services

Monthly Service Price 1

EXHIBIT D - SOFTWARE ADDITIONAL SERVICES - MONTHLY SERVICE PRICING 1

The software products listed below provide individual user access to applications. Prices for software service include installation, future upgrades, maintenance, help desk support, and computer based training. If requirements exist for software services for multiple users they may be aggregated and submitted to the cognizant ACO or the lead ACO if the requirements are for multiple claimants/locations. ACOs will negotiate quantity discounts based on the requirements.

Some restrictions apply to certain software products as indicated by numbered applicable notes. Those restrictions are as follows:

Note 1. Applications will be loaded on only one designated NMCI data seat with access and licensing provided to one designated NMCI account user.

Note 2. Application features and functions will be limited to those provided as part of the standard, commercially available COTs product. Features or functions that negatively impact Gold Disk operations or IA policy will be disabled. If required, additional functionality may be purchased separately under CLIN 0029.

Note 3. The application's ability to support Information Assurance shall be in accordance with the terms and conditions of the NMCI contract. Provided, application features and functions will be limited to those provided as part of the standard, unmodified, commercially available COTS product. If required, additional functionality may be purchased separately under CLIN 0029, provided that the additional functionality and enhanced software capabilities/features, including but not limited to: IA Support for CAC, PKI, access control, user authentication features, Privacy Act Information protection, Certification and Accreditation (C&A), DoD/DoN IA policies and Computer Network Defense 9CND) does not negatively impact Gold Disk operations or IA policy or function. Any features or functions that negatively impact the Gold Disk operations or IA policy, including any applicable SLA's, will be disabled.

Note 4. All COTS products made available, will only be provided when based upon standard, unmodified, off-the-shelf software without enhanced capabilities/features. COTS software will not be disruptive to the operation and functionality of the NMCI Gold Disk.

Note 5. Deployable support will be the same as all other deployable support services.

Note 6. User support documentation provided as a part of the commercial software package will be provided to the user. Additional manuals and references must be purchased separately.

A separate UAL is required for each named user. "Named User" is every individual person who has a UAL and accesses the eRoom workplaces. An "eRoom Workplace" refers to a specific location (or series of related locations) on the Network created with eRoom software. eRoom workplaces are designated by a unique URL(s) that can be accessed by Named Users that are granted permission by the customer's administrative representative. Workplaces are provided up to equal to 50% of the number of named users. Additional Workplaces are provided at an additional charge. The eRoom Client SW will be loaded on the NMCI Gold Disk and will be available from any NMCI seat by Named Users. Each Named User will have 100MB of shared disk space allocated to their eRoom(additional space is available for an additional fee). The servers will be dedicated to DoN usage and each server may support multiple DoN eRooms. If a DoN customer requires a dedicated server, it would be provided separately at an additional charge. On-Line, web based training is provided which includes: description of the digital workplace, tour of the eRoom environment including front page and tool bar and eRoom object types, function overview and project execution (drag and drop, version control, access control, search, notifications, polling, intercom and presence, notes, routing, links, and eRoom monitor), and quick reference sheet to facilitate use of the eRoom workplaces. Virtual classroom training, seminar training, or hands on training for eRoom is not included in the UAL price but can be purchased as an additional priced item. Technical Account Managers(TAM) will be provided to assist in the establishment and management of the eRooms. "Professional Services" are the professional services provided by the ISF such as development of customized software code, practice templates, or project management. Professional services are available at an additional charge. The number of UALs is assumed between 1000-2500.
